CHU 2850 | RM 95

DL 3905 truly is a consistent top end performer! With above average spring vigour, DL 3905 is well suited for all soil types across a wide range of populations. Its ears will flex under low to moderate populations. Flared husks promote fast drydown on ears that have large digestible kernels. DL 3905 is a tall plant that has excellent digestibility with high grain content to make this hybrid an excellent grain or silage option.
