CHU 2225 | RM 74

As our earliest hybrid, DL 612 is an excellent choice for the northern corn acres. With very good early season growth and development, DL 612 is a hybrid that flowers early to set the crop quick, reducing the risk of potential damage from early fall frosts. Healthy plants, early maturity and good stalks set this hybrid up for timely harvests with good grain quality and test weight. It would make an earlier option or companion to DL 763.
